

April 7th , 2006

presenting

PORTLAND PICKS

life + style to you: every Friday

Home

Past Issues

Advertise with us

Send to Friend

9

Southpark is a Class Act

We know classy. We may not always act classy – we’ve been seen to choke on negihama rolls, to dribble wine down our fronts, and to lose our tempers in public. But we know classy when we see it, and we saw it in every detail at Southpark Seafood Grill & Wine Bar.

Just so you know: we ate more at Southpark than we did on Thanksgiving, and oh my, it was all so delicious. Bold flavors, Pacific Northwest ingredients, cooked to perfection. Our favorite dish, however, was the mussels appetizer (the sauce alone is worthy of a loaf of bread and your first-born child).

Southpark is known for their wines, and their oysters, and their seafood, and the attention to wild populations of fish. The menu features local, seasonal ingredients and the freshest fish you can find without putting a pole in the water yourself. And really, who wants to do that? We’d rather eat what the chefs at Southpark cook up – and then choose the accompaniments – including seasonal vegetables and “Turlu Turlu” – a delectable Moroccan-style ratatouille.

So hear this, Portland – Southpark has been laying down the gauntlet for superior food and service since 1998. Their servers know more about the food and the wine list than most physicians know about doctoring. We’re not kidding! These people are tuned in, so don’t be afraid to let them guide you with wine pairings throughout your meal. We’ll say it again: Southpark is a class act.

Southpark Seafood Grill & Wine Bar

901 SW Salmon St.
Portland, OR 97205
503.326.1300

www.southpark.citysearch.com

southpark.citysearch.com

southpark.citysearch.com